WHO WE ARE

The International Security Management Association (ISMA) is a global association of preeminent Chief Security Officers representing select multinational organizations across all industry sectors. By providing an international, trusted peer information-sharing network, thought leadership, and professional development, we enable members and their organizations to effectively navigate security risks and achieve success in a volatile, uncertain, complex, and ambiguous corporate climate. ISMA is a strategic organization exclusively for executives. It is focused on examining how security risk management can increasingly drive value across corporations, enabling our members to contribute directly to enabling growth and success.

WHAT WE DO

ISMA provides members with the expertise and dexterity to effectively maneuver and abate security risks in today's rapidly evolving business environment. Our efficacy is built on extensive, immediate and actionable member collaboration, peer benchmarking and information sharing. ISMA sustains this network by offering web and mobile-based communication tools, targeted communication links, an extensive library, and unparalleled resources. ISMA also supports knowledge and expertise exchanges with individuals from the highest level of the security profession, which includes an exclusive professional education programs that are among the top in the industry.

THE GLOBAL ASSOCIATION OF LEADING CHIEF SECURITY OFFICERS

WHAT ISMA MEMBERS HAVE SAID:

Being responsible for the security of over 350,000 employees in some 200 different countries or regions can make you feel very lonely sometimes. And that's exactly where ISMA comes in. Being part of the ISMA community means that I can reach out to literally hundreds of the world's most distinguished security professionals in matters of minutes, anytime, on any topic. It means that wherever my company needs to go, someone from my trusted network has been there before and can help me do a better job protecting our employees. Simply put, being part of ISMA means that I will never walk alone.

Marco Mille

Head of Corporate Security
Siemens AG

When I became a CSO, I needed to establish a professional network quickly, and I tested several organizations to determine which would provide me with the most value, and a peer group to share insights and experiences. I attended my first ISMA conference in Paris and was amazed that the content hit on all the areas in which I was interested or concerned, and at a level appropriate for senior security executives. I have truly found ISMA to be the organization that is most focused on the key issues security leaders face, and I have benefited greatly from the networking and peer relationships.

Kelly Johnstone

Chief Security Officer & Vice President, Strategic Security
The Coca Cola Company

ISMA membership has been invaluable to me. The ability to reach out to a trusted global network of colleagues on a variety of issues ranging from benchmarking to real-time crisis response is exceptionally powerful. I have been able to accurately reflect international security norms with my company leadership by sharing the input I have received from our diverse ISMA membership base. I'm proud to be part of this exceptional organization.

Vice President & Chief Security Officer
The Boeing Company

WHY JOIN ISMA?

ISMA is an organization unlike any other – a trusted network that enables senior security executives from across the globe to come together to benchmark, to learn, and to network. The benefits are innumerable – both to the member company and to the individual – as clearly illustrated by testimonials from our members. And ISMA is a welcoming, highly connected, responsive group – our members know that when they reach out to the ISMA network with a question, a need, or a request, their fellow members will come through with the answers and support they require. No other organization offers as much in-depth experience in managing security as a business function. ISMA truly is second to none.

I hope you will consider joining this fine group of leading security professionals from around the world. I am confident that both you and your organization will immediately see the benefits of being a part of the ISMA network.
